MUSEUM LECTURE
Friday, April 7 8:30 p.m.

John D. Cooney, Curator of Egyptian and Classical Art at The Cleveland Museum of Art, will lecture there Friday evening, April 7 at 8:30 p.m. He will discuss BOOKS IN ANCIENT EGYPT and how they were manufactured, decorated and used from 3100 B.C. to the birth of Christ.

Mr. Cooney was formerly curator of Ancient Arts at the Brooklyn Museum in New York and Director of the American Research Institute at Cairo. He has dealt with the subject of Egyptian art in both published books and articles for periodicals.
